This large and beautiful south-facing stone house is in the centre of the Historic town of Motovun and has uninterrupted views across the valley below.

With 3 separate entrances, the house is spread over 3 floors and boasting 90m2 per floor, therefore approximately 270m2 of internal net surface area in total.

The house is in need of complete restoration.

Some of the exceptional features of the property is the original stone cobbled floor that runs from the street down into the ground floor, the original stone cisterna, and the beautiful views across the surrounding vineyards.
